

BACKGROUND

The Oxford County Agricultural Advisory Committee (AAC) was initially created in the late 1990s to act as a county-wide resource to the County's Area Municipalities for addressing complaints under the Nutrient Management By-laws and further, to operate as a peer review body for matters related to the By-laws.

The AAC was merged with the County's Nutrient Management Committee in January 2004. The new AAC consisted of representatives from each of the major livestock/poultry organizations in the County, the Oxford County Federation of Agriculture, the Oxford Christian Farmers Association as well as two members from Oxford County Council, a representative from an agricultural industry and a 'non-agricultural' lay person.

The mandate of the Committee was broadened in 2006 to permit County Council to canvass the Committee generally on matters related to agriculture. The Committee's composition was expanded in 2007 to include representatives from crop organizations to better represent the interests of the agricultural industry.

Bill 73 – Smart Growth for Our Communities Act came into effect in July 2016 and introduced changes to the Planning Act requiring upper-tier municipalities to appoint a Planning Advisory Committee (PAC). To address the provincial requirement for the County to establish a PAC, the membership of the AAC was expanded by Council in 2018 and the mandate of the Committee broadened to allow County Council to canvass the Committee on a greater range of planning matters. In order to implement this broader mandate, the composition of the Committee was expanded to include representatives from the Future Oxford Committee and/or members serving on any of the Future Oxford subcommittees.

PURPOSE/MANDATE

The Agricultural and Planning Advisory Committee (APAC) will primarily function as an advisory body to the County on agricultural and other land use related matters. Those matters on which the Committee's input will be solicited will be determined by County Council and facilitated by a Council resolution outlining the nature and timing of the input.

The Committee may also, from time to time, facilitate an educational forum County pertaining to agricultural and/or other planning related matters, as defined and directed by County Council through Council resolution.

The APAC will generally meet two (2) times per year or at the call of the Chair and an annual report of the Committee's activities covering the previous year shall be prepared for County Council.

The APAC shall adopt and follow rules of procedure to facilitate its activities. Such rules of procedure shall be consistent with Part XII, Local Advisory Committees of Ontario Regulation 267/03, as amended from time to time.

The APAC may, from time to time, provide an education forum on agricultural related policies and/or other land use planning matters as determined by County Council. The format and content of any educational forum or training seminar will be determined by County staff in consultation with the APAC.
