Proposed speed management and road safety improvements in your area

TILLSONBURG

With strong population growth and increased traffic across our communities, Oxford County has been undertaking speed management, traffic calming, and road safety investigations over the past four years to improve safety on County roads.

As a result of reviews in your community, Oxford County is recommending additional traffic calming measures to:

Oxford Road 20 / North Street E

Broadway to Tillson Avenue

- Install NEW electronic feedback signs for westbound traffic just west of Ontario Southland Railway crossing and for eastbound traffic just east of Falcon Road.
- Implement a Community Safety Zone (CSZ) from Broadway to Tillson Avenue.
- Install controlled pedestrian crossing (PXO) at Coulthard Street / Braun Avenue (planned for 2025).

About the recommendations

Road safety reviews have considered local community perceptions of road safety, the need for stop signs, warning signs and/or crosswalks, traffic speed and volume, posted speed, speed zone limits, collision data and other factors that impact how traffic moves through a community.

Speeding, which poses a serious risk to public safety and property, is influenced by factors other than posted speed limits. Research has shown that speed is largely influenced by the surrounding driving environment and that most drivers travel at a speed they consider comfortable. For this reason, the County's recommendations focus on proven measures to reduce speed by adjusting speed zone boundaries and providing visual cues, like:

electronic speed feedback signs

traffic-calming measures
(centre delineators, pavement markings)

community entrance features
(landscaping, street lights, gateway signs)
